Dear Parents,

The recent Government news concerning school reopening has undoubtedly raised many questions for you and us. The guidance on what this will mean for schools, parents and children was only released yesterday evening so we have not had a chance to digest it yet and work out the implications for KEJS. At this stage there is nothing set in stone, as soon as we know more we will let you know. What does seem sure is that for the majority of children school will not restart on 1 June and although they have the 'ambition' to get all children into school before the summer holidays this is still very dependent on conditions at the time.

We know that parents and staff alike want a return to normality but this is a little way off yet. We look forward to welcoming our children back into school as soon as we safely can.

Sally Harvey – Interim Headteacher

HOME LEARNING

There have been some changes to the online home learning available to our children. We are currently recommending you use the BBC Bitesize video lessons for English and Maths tasks. These all work well on tablets and mobile phones.

Mr Pude has been cutting the grass at school. Knights Enham Junior School is sending love to the children and families who are much missed. We look forward to seeing them before too long.

Mr Parkinson in the school library has found some good resources from different authors. Follow this link There are all sorts of different types of books so there is sure to be something to interest you and your children.

Something a little different...!
The school staff are working on something a little different that will be coming your way soon!

Children's Page

Don't forget you can read First News at home each week. The link for this week's edition is below.

The Hampshire Outdoor centres have produced a series of activities for you to try at home. This includes sock archery which sounds like great fun! DO let us know how you get on.

Joe Wicks – PE

Apparently there are children who have completed every work out so far! Well done and keep it going!

Something for the arty ones out there this week!

Talented illustrator and artist Rob Biddulph has been creating drawing tutorials each week and posting them online. Have a look and give them a try.

He is also going to attempt to break a World Record and you can be involved.

All his tutorials and the details for the World Record are on his website

Mr Britt's Reading Challenge

Thank you for the entries we have received for this challenge. Congratulations to Millie – you are our winner!

This week's topic learning pack, attached to this newsletter is called HOMES and it has a geography focus. Remember the age ranges are a guide and you can try things from other year groups.

Theatre Shows!

It was good to hear that some of you tried the online theatre show last week. There will be a new version of Beauty & The Beast soon. We'll let you know where to watch once it goes live.

What are you up to at home? Don't forget to send photographs to show us. Check out the website to see if you can spot your friends.
