Dear Parents and Guardians,

What an incredible week it has been! Sports Week has been a huge success, filled with excitement, energy, and endless smiles. Our students truly embodied the spirit of teamwork, perseverance, and joy as they participated in a variety of sporting events and fun-filled activities.

From thrilling races and tug-of-war showdowns to creative obstacle courses and team games, every child had the opportunity to shine. It was a pleasure to see the playground come alive with laughter, cheers, and the encouraging voices of friends and teachers alike.

Some of our favourite moments included:

- Team games e.g. netball, football and basket ball
- Replay races and short/ long distance running activities
- Jumping activities and many more.

A huge thank you to our staff, especially Mr Smith, who organised the successful week and of course, our enthusiastic children, who made this week so special. Whether running, jumping, cheering, or simply enjoying being outdoors together, everyone had a part to play in creating such a memorable experience.

Sports Week reminded us all of the importance of being active, supporting one another, and most of all — having fun! We hope your child came home with happy stories and proud moments to share.

Here's to a healthy, happy, and active school community!

Online Safety – URGENT INFORMATION – PLEASE READ

We have received reports about a YouTube cartoon series called Jeffy. At first glance, the puppet-style cartoon could be mistaken for child-appropriate content. However, Jeffy is part of a wider trend of animated videos that may look child-friendly but content-wise, they're anything but.

What are the risks of Jeffy and other adult-animations to children and young people?

- As the style of these animations is similar to other videos they view, children and young people may click onto content without realising it contains harmful material.
- Even after viewing, a child may not realise how problematic the behaviour they've viewed is if they believe they are watching an age-appropriate cartoon.
- Children and young people may copy behaviours and language they have viewed. This is not exclusive to the home environment as some content shows settings outside of the home, for example Jeffy at school.
- When exposed to inappropriate content, such as sexualised content, children may struggle to explain to an adult what they have seen and/or what is upsetting them, or they may worry they will get into trouble.

Top Tips

Stay calm. If you suspect the child or young person in your care has watched Jeffy or other inappropriate cartoon-style content, don't panic. Approach them calmly, ask open questions and listen. Importantly, avoid mentioning Jeffy or similar animations by name as you may be accidentally alerting them to something they knew nothing about!

Talk to them. If you know for sure they have viewed inappropriate content, ask them to explain what they have seen and give them space to tell you in their own words. It may be emotional or embarrassing to discuss, but being able to talk through complex feelings in a supportive environment will help them.

Never leave the safeguarding to someone else. Even though platforms like YouTube have age restrictions and moderators, they are not perfect and should not be relied upon to keep the child or young person in your care safe online.

Identify help. It's important that children and young people have someone they can turn to for help, even if that person is not you. Use our Trusted Adults resource to highlight who these people are for them.

Check safety settings. Ensure the correct safety settings are in place on the devices your child has access to and use the Online Safety Centre to learn how to restrict content, block and report on the platform.

Keep the conversation going. Your child's online safety should be an ongoing discussion. Just as you would ask questions about their offline life, make their online experiences just as regular a topic in your household or the classroom.
